

Dear Princetonian,

Welcome back to Old Nassau!

Your Class and Association of Princeton Graduate Alumni (APGA) Reunion Chairs, with the help of thousands of alumni volunteers, have created a truly extraordinary weekend for Reunions 2006. I hope that you and your families will take the opportunity to become re-acquainted with Princeton—strolling the beautiful campus and exploring all that it has to offer. Most importantly, I hope that your visit with friends and classmates will be meaningful and memorable.

I encourage you to sample the intellectual fare of the many fine forums and panels sponsored by the Alumni Association, the major reunion classes, and many of Princeton's academic departments. Princeton's students will showcase their talents throughout the weekend, with outstanding theatrical performances and "arch sings" by many of the a capella singing groups on campus. Of particular note, the Alumni Council Careers Committee is hosting a half-day careers colloquium on Thursday afternoon, while Dean of Admission Janet Rapelye will host her annual information session on navigating the college admission process for high school students and their parents on Friday afternoon.

We are very pleased that our 19th President Shirley Tilghman will hold her sixth annual "Conversation with Alumni" on Saturday morning in Richardson Auditorium. She will give a brief University update before opening the floor to your questions. And, of course, on Saturday afternoon there's the one and only P-rade, followed in the evening by the Princeton University Orchestra Lawn Concert and spectacular fireworks on Finney and Campbell Fields near the Princeton Stadium.

On behalf of the entire Alumni Association of Princeton University, I welcome you back to Princeton and salute the many alumni leaders and volunteers who have worked so diligently to make this reunion possible for all of us.

Have a wonderful weekend.

Linda Francis Knights '77

President of the Alumni Association of Princeton University

Law and Money

LAPA's Fifth Annual Continuing Legal Education Conference. Law is very often co-mingled with money. Sometimes this is because law regulates how people spend money. Sometimes this is because law is charged with determining how much certain things are worth. At this LAPA/CLE conference, we will examine different aspects of the law-and-money connection. Some of our questions include, "Should there be special rules for financial transactions within the context of intimate relations?", "Should there be limits on how much individuals and organizations spend in election campaigns?", "Are punitive damages on their way out?", "How should bankruptcy proceedings evaluate assets?" and "Should people be compensated as innocent victims of terrorist attacks?" These questions focus our attention on the way that money puts itself at the center of legal consideration. But is the law good at handling money? We will explore law's strengths and weaknesses as our fine team of panelists introduces us to the current issues and proposed solutions in each of these areas. Registration required. Conference registration information is available at <http://www.princeton.edu/~lapa/conference/>. As it did in ancient Rome, James argues, a rule-based world order eventually subverts and destroys itself, creating the need for imperial action. The result is a continuous fluctuation between pacification and the breakdown of domestic order. Refreshments served. ## Alcohol Policy at Princeton University

The University alcoholic beverage policy is designed to be consistent with the laws of the State of New Jersey and also reflects the need for mutual respect and personal responsibility within a diverse community.

The University and Borough prohibit:

- Transporting of an open container of alcohol across common spaces of the University. (Common spaces are areas such as lounges, open campus, meeting halls, etc., outside of Reunions Headquarters).
- Possession of a container of alcohol by persons under the age of 21.
- Serving of alcohol to persons under the age of 21.

The State of New Jersey has very strict laws concerning driving under the influence of alcohol and drugs. Persons found guilty of DWI charges are subject to substantial penalties, including fines and imprisonment. In addition, the Borough of Princeton prohibits the transporting of open containers of alcohol in public places, such as streets and sidewalks (including Prospect Street).

Finally, please note that golf carts are considered vehicles for purposes of DWI and Open Container laws.

OIT is pleased to make network connectivity available for your use during Reunions. To use the service, your computer must have a 10Base-T Ethernet interface and an Ethernet cable, or a computer that has an 802.11g Wireless interface.

Where to Connect?

All dormitory rooms have one or more active network jacks. Some additional ports are available in other locations, notably the Frist Campus Center. You will need an Ethernet cable to connect your computer to the network. Please note that if your computer is configured for a private Intranet, you may have difficulty accessing our service, and if you are able to get campus service, you might not be able to access your company's service.

Wireless Networking

Many areas of the campus offer wireless networking. These areas include all dormitories and the Graduate College, central campus, from Firestone Plaza to Alexander Beach, the café in Frist, the grassy lawn outside the Frist eating area, several rooms in Firestone Library, parts of the Friend Center, and Scudder Plaza (the fountain area in front of Robertson Hall). Note: A limited number of wireless cards are available for checkout at the Frist Welcome Desk. A printable map that shows wireless coverage on campus can be found at: www.princeton.edu/wirelessmap.

Configuring Your Computer

To use the wired network, once you reach campus, plug in to the network, configure your computer's network settings to "Use DHCP" to obtain an IP address, and restart your computer. All recent versions of Microsoft Window and Apple Mac OS include DHCP software. Computers that cannot be configured to use DHCP will be unable to use Reunions Network Service.

To access the wireless network, configure your computer's wireless connection to "Use DHCP," set the "network name" to "puvistor" and restart your computer to obtain an IP address.

For additional information on configuring your computer, please see the University's KnowledgeBase at <http://KB.princeton.edu/9216>.

There are several computing facilities (“clusters”) available for your use during Reunions. These machines will have a special reunions configuration and will not require you to log in. You can simply visit one of the facilities listed below and gain access to the Internet. You can use these computers to check your email (provided you have a web-accessible email interface), browse the Internet and use Microsoft Office.

Your Responsibilities

It is especially important that the computer you attach to the campus network operates in such a way as to not interfere with the effective performance of the network. Because these devices will not be registered in the Princeton University Host Database, OIT will be unable to identify and notify their owners in the event they operate in ways that interfere with the campus network. This could make it difficult to address problems and restore network service to the rest of the campus in a timely fashion.

You can help minimize such problems by ensuring that the computer you bring to campus has all current security and definitions updates installed, is properly secured against intrusion, and has current antiviral software. In particular, you should not attach DHCP servers to the campus network.

While you are a customer of Princeton University’s network, you are expected to abide by the University’s information technology policies, available online at <http://www.princeton.edu/guidelines>.

The bus stops are located off of Elm Drive at Lot #6 (parking garage); University Place between the WAWA and the Dinky, and again at the intersection with College Road at Spelman Hall; and the Princeton Stadium, Palmer Pavilion.

Lightning Storms: Emergency Preparedness

Lightning is the second leading cause of direct weather deaths in the U.S. (after floods) and results in more fatalities each year than tornadoes and hurricanes combined. Given the random nature of lightning strikes, absolute protection cannot be guaranteed to any individual or group. Individuals are ultimately responsible for their personal safety and should take appropriate action when threatened by lightning. Adults must take responsibility for the safety of children in their care during thunderstorm activities. However, awareness of certain lightning safety guidelines can greatly reduce the risk of injury or death.

1. Identify in advance a location (e.g., building, bus, personal automobile) that would be safe during a thunderstorm. Locations that offer little or no protection from lightning include tents, golf carts, or open shelters, such as parking garages. Recommended locations for Reunions participants include dormitories of headquarters sites, Alexander Hall, the University Chapel and the Frist Campus Center.
2. Public Safety will notify your Reunion if a bad storm is expected and if evacuation of the headquarters site is recommended. When you first see lightning or hear thunder, go to the safe location immediately. Lightning often precedes rain; so don't wait for the rain to begin before suspending activities.
3. If you are caught outdoors, avoid high ground, open spaces, and water. Avoid all metal objects including electrical wires, fences, machinery, motors, and power tools. Avoid standing under Reunion tents; while they provide protection from the rain, they do not provide protection from lightning. If lightning is striking nearby when you are outside, you should:
  - a. Crouch down and put your feet together. Place your hands over your ears to minimize hearing damage from thunder.
  - b. If part of a group, spread out. You should avoid being in close proximity (minimum of 15 ft.) to other people.
4. Suspend outdoor activities for at least 30 minutes after the last observed lightning flash or thunder clap or until your reunion receives the "All Clear" message from Public Safety.
5. Persons injured by a lightning strike do not carry an electrical charge and can be handled safely. Apply first aid procedures to a lightning victim if you are qualified to do so. Call 911 or send for help immediately.

Medical Services

We are fortunate to have large numbers of people in attendance at Reunions and medical emergencies both large and small can be expected. If you or a companion need assistance, medical help is available for bee stings, cardiac symptoms or anything in between. Please check at your major reunion headquarters site, program your cell phone to 609-258-3333 or 609-258-3134, or dial 911 from any blue light or campus phone.

For the Lawn Concert and Fireworks at Finney and Campbell Fields, emergency aid workers are stationed at the north plaza of the Princeton Stadium (Western Way) and at the FitzRandolph Road gate (east side of field). In addition, two mobile teams will be circulating. If you experience any discomfort during or after the presentations, workers are ready to assist you.

Pace Center Exhibition

Engaging at Princeton: Profiles in Service

To showcase the scope and breadth of civic engagement and public service among students and the many forms of engagement taking place at Princeton, students and alumni have been invited to submit posters. The posters display and convey information (in pictures and in writing) about civic engagement and/or public service-related projects, events or activities in which the students and/or alumni are currently engaged. The opportunity is presented for students to share their initiatives with alumni and for alumni to connect their service initiatives with other alumni and their classes. Sponsored by the Pace Center and the Alumni Council Committee on Community Service. Frist Campus Center, First Floor (100 Level).

Parking

All entrances to the University will be closed to vehicles during Reunions. To access our campus shuttle, park cars in Lot #16, #23 and #23A on the lower end of campus. Overflow will be in Lot #21, next to Jadwin Gym.

P-rade!

The one and only P-rade begins at 2:00 p.m. on Saturday. Alumni, spouses and their children are welcome to march.

Be sure to check the P-rade map in your Princeton Alumni Weekly issue, or on posters at your major reunion headquarters site and around campus for the route and staging area for your class. Special orange signs will also be posted along the route—or you can look for your classmates in their reunion costumes. This year's finale will be on Poe-Pardee fields. Parents of members of the Class of 2006 are encouraged to sit on the bleachers reserved for them at the Poe-Pardee finale for the best views and photos. At the end of the route, please help keep the P-rade moving! Don't stop to chat—but proceed to your next terrific reunion activity.

Here are some additional suggestions that could help your major reunion win this year's Class of 1945 P-grade Trophy:

- Get to your staging area by 1:45 p.m.
- Wear your reunion costume.
- Keep up with your class! Follow the banner and keep up with the people in front of you.
- Carry very young children or use a stroller.
- Keep moving while you are cheering the reunions along the way and at the Reviewing Stand.

Princetoniana Exhibit

History of Reunions and the P-grade

Exhibit of images, banners, costumes and regalia of all sorts from early to modern reunions: the magical spirit of Princeton alumni on display. Sponsored by the Alumni Council Committee on Princetoniana. Frist Campus Center, First Floor (100 Level), Display Cases Flanking Central Staircase.

Public Safety

The Public Safety Office is located at 200 Elm Drive and can be reached at 609-258-1000. Emergency calls can be made from any blue light campus or wall mounted emergency phone, by pressing the red emergency button, or by pressing 9-1-1. If making an emergency call from a cell phone, dial 609-258-3333. We recommend you program your cell phone for campus emergencies by setting a speed dial number to 609-258-3333. Dialing 911 on a cell phone goes to Mercer County for routing and significantly slows emergency response time.

University Archives

Going Back in Orange and Black

All are welcome to view this display of Reunions clothing and accessories drawn from the Princeton University Archives that spans the late 19th through 20th centuries. The Classes of 1956 and 1981 are honored in a special display commemorating their respective years on campus. The Archives also houses memorabilia, senior theses and records of Princeton's history and lore. Thursday and Friday, 9:00 a.m.–4:45 p.m.; Saturday, 9:00 a.m.–1:00 p.m.. Seeley G. Mudd Manuscript Library (behind Elm Club).
