On behalf of the Alumni Association of Princeton University, welcome back to Old Nassau and Reunions 2012. No one does Reunions like Princeton, and over the next few days you'll see why. In these pages, you will find a full weekend of stimulating programs and activities, ranging from Alumni-Faculty Forums and career workshops to class and departmental panels and receptions. For music, stop by the Reunions sites each evening for great entertainment; find your way to the arches around campus to hear Princeton's a cappella groups perform; spend Friday afternoon listening to groups from the past compete in the fourth annual Alumni Battle of the Bands; and be sure to attend the Princeton University Band's Fred E. Fox '39 Memorial Concert Saturday morning on Cannon Green — my favorite event. Finally, you won't want to miss the one and only P-rade on Saturday afternoon and the spectacular lawn concert and fireworks on Saturday evening. We also hope that you will take time to reconnect with old friends and meet new ones, engage your mind, and enjoy the beautiful Princeton campus. "Going Back" is among the greatest and most longstanding of Princeton traditions. We hope that you, your families, and friends have a marvelous weekend at "The Best Old Place of All!"

A Brief History of Princeton Reunions and the P-rade

All colleges encourage their graduates to maintain and demonstrate loyalty to their alma mater through return visits. However, no other institution welcomes all of its alumni and their families back for reunions on a yearly basis with the style and fanfare that is uniquely Princeton. Here is a short history of this ever-evolving annual tradition.

In the College of New Jersey's early years, alumni regularly returned to campus to attend Commencement exercises. Its 100th Commencement in June 1847 drew an impressive 700 graduates for a formal dinner, escalating the tradition into a larger event. Until 1859, all alumni gathered together, but in that year, Alfred Woodhull, Class of 1856, organized the first "class" reunion, a triennial. He astutely surmised reasonable attendance could be expected, because in that era, anyone who returned to campus for Commencement three years after graduation qualified for an automatic master's degree (a practice lasting until 1892).

In 1861, a regiment bound for battle in the Civil War passing through Princeton captivated the College's students with its "skyrocket" cheer, which imitated the sound of fireworks — "sis" for the zooming rocket; "boom" for the explosion; and "ahhhh" as the crowd expressed its pleasure for the resulting light show. At Princeton, the "sis, boom, ah" skyrocket cheer evolved into Princeton's "locomotive," where word repetition and increasing speed emulates the sound of a train pulling out from a station. "Tiger" was likely added to the cheer in the late 19th century, when athletic uniforms began consistently using orange and black.

The P-rade officially began in the late 1890s but is actually the merged product of earlier traditions. Beginning in the Civil War era, alumni formally processed to Commencement Day dinner meetings. Then in 1888, Princeton and Yale University began scheduling one of their baseball games at Princeton on the Saturday before Commencement. Since this coincided with class dinners, alumni attendance was high and many classes formally marched to the game at University Field (located at the corner of Prospect Avenue and Olden Street). In October 1896, when the newly renamed Princeton University celebrated its sesquicentennial (150th anniversary), 800 Princeton undergraduates and 2,000 alumni took part in a mile-long procession through the campus and town; most carried an orange torch or lantern, and many classes wore coordinated costumes. Stimulated by the grandeur and organization of this parade, in 1897 all returning classes first joined to march in order to the baseball game. By 1906, a written description of the annual event said, "The Alumni Pee-rade on Saturday afternoon was quite as spectacular as usual; the bands, banners, transparencies, uniforms, and vaudeville features encircling University Field with color and noise."

During early P-rades, the sole decoration worn by returning alumni was a small badge with class numerals on it. Gradually, classes began to distinguish themselves with creative hats, balloons, and parasols; before long, younger classes wore colorful costumes, carried humorous signs, and often performed comic stunts. In 1912, some of that year's graduating class dressed in blue denim overalls and jackets to protect their regular clothes from spilled beer stains. One year later, the Class of 1913 adopted white beer jackets as their costume. By 1920, the jackets became a tradition with the addition of unique class logos. To this day, each graduating class designs its own class jacket, worn for the first time during Reunions weekend. Classes typically design new costumes for each "major" quinquennial reunion up until the 25th, when they receive a class blazer.

Reunions were cancelled in 1917 and 1918 for World War I, so the "Victory Commencement" of 1919 featured a throng of 5,000 alumni for the largest Reunions and P-rade yet. An even longer "Victory Reunion" P-rade in 1946 following World War II (and the cancelled Reunions of 1943, 1944, and 1945) brought back 7,300 alumni, with each class carrying service flags showing the number of classmates who served and were killed in the war.

In 1947, the Class of 1922 held its 25th Reunion in Holder Hall Courtyard, becoming the first on-campus reunion site. (Previous reunions were held in private homes and rented spaces in town.) But it was not until 1952 that liquor was permitted to be served at the on-campus sites.

Rain has put the occasional damper on the P-rade but only once — in 1953 — did it force a cancellation. Even then, some classes insisted on marching anyway! Over time, P-rades and Reunions increasingly became a family affair, but it was not until the undergraduate body became coeducational in 1969 that women were officially welcome to participate in the P-rade.

From the early- to mid-20th century, the P-rade route began at Nassau Hall, moved across campus to 1879 Arch, then down Prospect Avenue and around University Field to pass the president in his reviewing box. Construction of the EQuad on the site of University Field in the late 1960s changed the end of the route to the new Clarke Field south of Ivy Lane. This era also marked the last Yale-Princeton Commencement baseball game (1966), so the P-rade ending changed to an Alumni Association meeting welcoming the graduating seniors into the alumni body. In the early 1990s, the route was altered again to keep the P-rade entirely on campus — beginning at FitzRandolph Gate, going around Nassau Hall and Cannon Green, then down Elm Drive to finish on Poe Field.

Despite route changes, procession order remains traditional. At 2:00 PM on Reunions Saturday, the Nassau Hall bell tolls and the P-rade Grand Marshal and other dignitaries (including the University president) lead members of the 25th Reunion Class from front campus to Poe Field. The classes then process in descending class order, beginning with the “Old Guard” (classes beyond the 65th Reunion) who ride in golf carts or occasionally walk, always drawing the loudest cheers from spectators. In recognition for his commitment to Reunions, the eldest returning alumnus has the special privilege of carrying the Class of 1923 Cane — a black wooden staff topped by a leaping silver tiger. Graduate alumni march between the 24th and 26th reunion classes. Throughout, dedicated alumni known as Marshals maintain order in their distinctive orange “Da Vinci” hats and blue blazers. The P-rade ends when the senior class sprints onto Poe Field, charging past the Reviewing Stand.

In 1996, in celebration of the University’s bicenquinquenary (250th anniversary), a spectacular fireworks display was first held on Saturday night. The thousands of shells, custom soundtrack, and tailored choreography of the 25-minute display quickly became a highlight and annual tradition during Reunions.

Increasing student body size and the inclusion of family members in the P-rade has swelled turnout and lively participation in the ever-more-colorful spectacle. Today, well over 20,000 alumni, family, and friends participate in this annual gathering, and no other university comes close to the pageantry, magnitude, and ceremony of Princeton Reunions.

This summary was prepared by the Committee on Reunions and is adapted from the research and writings of Alexander Leitch '24, William K. Selden '34, Daniel N. White '65, J. T. Miller '70, and Liz Greenberg '02.

Faculty Presentation: "Divas, Darlings, and Dames: Women in Broadway Musicals of the 1960s"

The image of the Single Girl — sassy, sexual, and employed — was a staple of 1960s popular culture. Broadway musicals, including Oliver!, Man of La Mancha, Mame, Hello, Dolly!, Cabaret, and Sweet Charity, present singing and dancing versions of this figure. How did the performance of femininity on Broadway converse with U.S. culture in the mid-1960s? Join Stacy Wolf, Professor of Theater in the Lewis Center for the Arts, Director of the Princeton Atelier, and author of Changed for Good: A Feminist History of the Broadway Musical, for a multimedia presentation. John Constable: Oil Sketches from the Victoria and Albert Museum

A thoughtful look at one of the greatest landscape artists of all time, this compelling, once-in-a-lifetime exhibition of 85 paintings, oil sketches, watercolors, and drawings offers a rare insight into the revolutionary working processes of John Constable (1776–1837). Taking his easel into nature, Constable was one of the first artists to work en plein air, “so as to note ‘the day, the hour, the sunshine and the shade.’” He ultimately paved the way for the avant-garde French artists of the 1870s, changing the course of modern art. For more information about exhibitions and events, visit artmuseum.princeton.edu. Thursday, 10:00 AM to 10:00 PM; Friday and Saturday, 10:00 AM to 5:00 PM; Sunday, 1:00 to 5:00 PM. Princeton and the Gothic Revival: 1870–1930

When Princeton University sought to modernize itself as a progressive institution, it did so by adopting a visual language from the past: the Gothic vocabulary of the “ancient” universities of Oxford and Cambridge. “Princeton and the Gothic Revival: 1870–1930” explores the Gothic Revival movement in America at the end of the 19th century, using

Princeton as a case study. Drawing from the University's libraries and special collections, the exhibition illustrates the many ways in which the Gothic Revival plays a part in our experience of modern Princeton. In conjunction with the exhibition, the Museum developed its first mobile Web application, a multimedia exploration of nine existing and historic campus sites through text, audio, and images. The mobile app is accessible from any iPhone, iPod touch, or Android device and as a website (puam.princeton.edu/gothicrevival). For more information about exhibitions and events, visit artmuseum.princeton.edu. Thursday, 10:00 AM to 10:00 PM; Friday and Saturday, 10:00 AM to 5:00 PM; Sunday, 1:00 to 5:00 PM. Seeley G. Mudd Manuscript Library

She Flourishes: Chapters in the History of Princeton Women

The exhibit documents the struggles and accomplishments of women scholars, students, staff, and other women associated with the institution. The exhibit title is derived from the University's official motto, Dei Sub Numine Viget, which translates to "Under God's Power, She Flourishes." Drawing from the Mudd Library's rich holdings, the exhibit showcases various accounts of women throughout Princeton's history and explores the ways in which these women have redefined what was once considered an "old-boys' school." Thursday and Friday, 9:00 AM to 4:45 PM; Saturday (with free continental breakfast), 9:00 AM to Noon. Sponsored by the Seeley G. Mudd Manuscript Library. Seeley G. Mudd Manuscript Library, 65 Olden Street.

Computing Resources

During Reunions weekend, Princeton's Office of Information Technology (OIT) provides wireless Internet access to all campus visitors. The service is free of charge and requires no registration. For those who come without their personal laptops, several conveniently located computer facilities ("clusters") are available to you.

Wireless Networking

Wireless networking is available in nearly all of Princeton's buildings, and in many outdoor spaces such as Cannon Green. Visitors should connect to the network called "puvisitor." A printable map that shows wireless coverage on campus can be found at www.princeton.edu/wirelessmap. Detailed instructions for connecting to the puvisitor wireless network are below.

Getting Computer Help While on Campus

The OIT Support and Operations Center (also known as the "Help Desk") is open 24 hours a day, 7 days a week to help with computing and networking problems. To speak with a Help Desk consultant on the phone, call 609-258-HELP (4357) and press option 1. For online chat, go to the OIT home page (www.princeton.edu/oit) and click on the link on the right. You can also send e-mail to helpdesk@princeton.edu.

Connecting to the Network and Configuring Your Computer

Your use of the Visitor Wireless service constitutes your agreement to abide by the University's acceptable use policy, posted at www.princeton.edu/itpolicy. If you do not agree to abide by that policy, do not connect to this network.

Please note: Your company or organization's network may have restrictions that prevent you from connecting to it from other locations. Please check with your local technical support prior to Reunions for information about gaining access to your company's computing resources from the Princeton network.

To connect to Princeton's puvisitor wireless network, see the instructions for your computer type below:

Windows 7:

- Click the Start button, then click "Control Panel"
- Click "Network and Internet"
- In the Network and Sharing Center section, click "Connect to a Network"
- In the list of available wireless networks, click on "puvisitor," then click "Connect"

Windows Vista:

- Click on the Start button, and then click "Connect To"
- Click on the "puvisitor" wireless network connection

Mac OS X:

- Click on the Apple icon in the upper-left corner of the screen, then click "System Preferences"

- Open the “Network” option under System Preferences
- Click the “Airport” icon
- Select “puvisitor” from the network name pull-down menu

Troubleshooting — Are You in a Wireless Service Area?

Be sure that you are in an area of the campus served by Visitor Wireless. Do you see a wireless network named “puvisitor”? If you can, then Visitor Wireless is available in your location. If you cannot, make sure that wireless connectivity on your computer is enabled, and move to a location where you are certain wireless is available.

Some handheld devices such as iPhones or Android phones may have difficulty connecting to the “puvisitor” wireless network. We recommend using these devices’ cellular network capability (3G/4G) rather than the “puvisitor” network.

Computing Facilities Available during Reunions

There are several computing facilities (“clusters”) available for your use during the Reunions weekend. These machines will have a special Reunions configuration and will not require you to log in. You can simply visit one of the facilities listed below and gain access to the Internet. You can use these computers to check your e-mail (provided you have a Web-accessible e-mail interface), browse the Internet, and use Microsoft Office.

Reunions computer clusters will be located as follows:

- McCosh Hall, Room B59
- Friend Center, Rooms 005, 007, and 009
- All OIT workstations in Frist

For more information on software available in these clusters, please see: www.princeton.edu/clusters.

Your Responsibilities

It is especially important that the computer you attach to the campus network operates in such a way as to not interfere with the effective performance of the network. Because these devices will not be registered in the Princeton University Host Database, OIT will be unable to identify and notify their owners in the event they operate in ways that interfere with the campus network. This could make it difficult to address problems and restore network service to the rest of the campus in a timely fashion.

You can help minimize such problems by ensuring that the computer you bring to campus has all current security and definitions updates installed, is properly secured against intrusion, and has current antiviral software. In particular, you should not attach DHCP servers to the campus network.

While you are a user of Princeton University’s network, you are expected to abide by the University’s information technology policies, available online at: www.princeton.edu/itpolicy.

Lightning Storms: Emergency Preparedness

Lightning is the second leading cause of direct weather deaths in the U.S. (after floods) and results in more fatalities each year than tornadoes and hurricanes combined. Given the random nature of lightning strikes, absolute protection cannot be guaranteed to any individual or group. Individuals are ultimately responsible for their personal safety and should take appropriate action when threatened by lightning. Adults must take responsibility for the safety of children in their care during thunderstorm activities.

However, awareness of certain lightning safety guidelines can greatly reduce the risk of injury or death.

1. Identify in advance a location (e.g., building, bus, personal automobile) that would be safe during a thunderstorm. Locations that offer little or no protection from lightning include tents, golf carts, or open shelters, such as parking garages. Recommended locations for Reunions participants include dormitories in the headquarters sites, Alexander Hall, the University Chapel, and the Frist Campus Center.
2. Public Safety will notify your reunion if a bad storm is expected and if evacuation of the headquarters site is recommended. When you first see lightning or hear thunder, go to the safe location immediately. Lightning often precedes rain; so don't wait for the rain to begin before suspending activities.
3. If you are caught outdoors, avoid high ground, open spaces, and water. Avoid all metal objects including electrical wires, fences, machinery, motors, and power tools. Avoid standing under reunion tents; while they provide protection from the rain, they do not provide protection from lightning. If lightning is striking nearby when you are outside, you should:
 - a. Crouch down and put your feet together. Place your hands over your ears to minimize hearing damage from thunder.
 - b. If part of a group, spread out. You should avoid being in close proximity (minimum of 15 ft.) to other people.
4. Suspend outdoor activities for at least 30 minutes after the last observed lightning flash or thunder clap or until your reunion receives the "All Clear" message from Public Safety.
5. Persons injured by a lightning strike do not carry an electrical charge and can be handled safely. Apply First Aid procedures to a lightning victim if you are qualified to do so. Call Public Safety Emergency 609-258-3333.

Lost and Found If you discover you have lost an item over the weekend, please check first with the student crew at your major reunion headquarters. The Office of the Alumni Association crew also collects lost and found items at Maclean House (609-258-3468). Shortly after Reunions, lost and found items will be moved to Public Safety and registered. You can check with the Department of Public Safety regarding your item at 609-258-1000.

Medical Services If you or your companions need assistance, medical help is available for bee stings, cardiac symptoms, or anything in between. Please program your cell phone with Public Safety's Emergency number 609-258-3333, or dial 911 from any blue light phone or campus landline. Dialing 911 on a cell phone routes to the nearest emergency call center and may slow emergency response time.

Orange Key Campus Tours Tours will be offered Thursday and Friday, at 11:15 AM, 1:00 PM, and 3:30 PM, leaving from the Admission Reception Area in Clio Hall (top floor).

Parking All entrances to the University will be closed to vehicles during Reunions. To access the campus shuttle, park cars in Lot 32 or Lot 21, next to Jadwin Gym. Accessible parking is available in Lot 16 with access to ADA compliant shuttles. Reserved parking is available in Lot 23 for the Old Guard and 65th Reunion. Please refer to the foldout 2012 Reunions Headquarters and Parking map for details.

P-rade The P-rade begins at 2:00 PM on Saturday. Alumni, spouses, and their children are welcome to march.

Be sure to check the P-rade map in this booklet, in your Reunions issue of the Princeton Alumni Weekly, or on posters at your major reunion headquarters site and around campus for the route and staging area for your class.

Orange signs will also be posted along the route — or you can look for your classmates in their reunion costumes.

Tiger Refreshments will have three concession locations along the P-rade route: the southeast corner of Alexander Beach, along Elm Drive; immediately southeast of Dillon Court East, along Elm Drive; and between Scully Hall and Icahn Laboratory.

This year's finale will be on Poe-Pardee fields. Parents of members of the Class of 2012 are encouraged to sit on the bleachers reserved for them at the Poe-Pardee finale for the best views and photos. At the end of the route, please help keep the P-rade moving!

Here are some additional suggestions that could help your major reunion win this year's Class of 1945 P-rade Trophy:

- Get to your staging area by 1:45 PM
- Wear your reunion costume
- Keep up with your class! Follow the banner and keep up with the people in front of you
- Carry very young children or use a stroller
- Keep moving while you are cheering the classes along the way and at the Reviewing Stand

Public Safety The Department of Public Safety is located at 200 Elm Drive and can be reached at 609-258-1000.

Emergency calls can be made from any blue light campus or wall mounted emergency phone by pressing the red emergency button, or by pressing 9-1-1. If making an emergency call for a campus emergency from a cell phone, dial 609-258-3333. Dialing 911 on a cell phone goes to the nearest emergency call center for routing and slows emergency response time.

Reunions Mobile Throughout Reunions, you can quickly access helpful information — from event schedules to alerts, from transportation logistics to P-rade staging sites. Just navigate to <http://m.princeton.edu/reunions> on your smartphone or other mobile device.

Transportation–Campus Shuttles The Office of the Alumni Association provides a shuttle service to help you move around the campus and from the main parking lots (see 2012 Headquarters and Parking map foldout).

There are three shuttle routes:

- Central Line (Main Campus)
- East Line (Lot 21)
- Forbes Line

Note that because of special events, area construction, and traffic, shuttles may need to be rerouted and routes combined. Real-time shuttle tracker is available through Reunions Mobile, <http://m.princeton.edu/reunions>.

The shuttle service hours are:

- Thursday: Noon to Midnight
- Friday: 8:00 AM to 2:00 AM
- *Saturday: 8:00 AM to 2:00 AM
